

Learning Activity:

LEARNING OBJECTIVES	EXPANDED CONTENT OUTLINE
The learner will be able to have a general knowledge of inter-professional education for nursing students in China.	The study gave a detailed introduction and descriptions of current situation of the educational activities which had been conducted for nursing students in China.
The learner will be able to know the feasibility of inter-professional simulation-based clinical examination in nursing extended experimental teaching practice	Inter-professional cooperation, high-fidelity simulated patients and other simulation technology were used to evaluate students' clinical abilities. The performance of students was evaluated by five groups of examiners and the two examiners in each group conducted the evaluation simultaneously.